

REED ADMITS THEFT OF DYNAMITE AT POLO QUARRY

STEERS STAMPEDE
IN BUSINESS PART OF KANSAS CITY

Plunge Through Windows,
Charge Street Cars,
Frighten People

Kansas City, July 24—(AP)—Fifty head of Hereford cattle stampeded through the streets here early today, following the midnight wreck of a Santa Fe freight train two blocks from the Union Station. The police and motorists staged many exciting impromptu rodeos in the downtown district.

Nine cars were piled up when the train's locomotive left the rails, and three cattle cars were wrenched open. The frightened stock scattered in all directions, and soon the police were deluged with telephone calls from excited residents.

Only a few of the cattle had been rounded up today and reports indicated the excited animals had reached the outlying residence sections.

Two steers were captured in the vicinity of the Muehlebach Hotel at Twelfth and Baltimore Streets, after they had fallen on the sidewalk, exhausted by the chase.

Through Glass Window

A wild steer dashed through a plate glass window into a downtown garage and horned several cars. Timid attendants gathered, but none dared approach the wild-eyed bovine, who finally crashed through another window and fled up an alley.

One panic-stricken steer was knocked down by a street car at Thirteenth and Main Streets, but got to its feet apparently unharmed and escaped.

Twenty patrolmen bulldozed another animal on the north side near the City Hall. Tying the animal to a pump, the men scattered in pursuit of other cattle.

Another was corralled in a driveway near the postoffice, while the animal that caused havoc by entering a drug store on the Union Station plaza escaped.

Sirens Add to Panic

Shouts of motorists and sirens of police cars added to the panic of the fleeing Herefords as the few pedestrians down town scattered to elevated points of vantage to watch the pursuit.

While the downtown rodeo was at its height an automobile collided with a truckload of hogs at 39th Street and Troost Avenue in the residence section, and the truck overturned, freeing the hogs. Traffic officer and spectators herded the swine into a vacant lot.

Think Sandino Has Fled from Country

Superior, Wis., July 24—(AP)—President Coolidge has been informed through a report of Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, Commander of the Special Service Squadron, that activities in Nicaragua on the part of Augusto Sandino have apparently ceased entirely and Sandino himself has, to all appearances, fled the country.

The report showed that the various bands which have kept the country in a turmoil since Henry L. Stimson arranged a truce between the warring factions, have fairly well surrendered and given pledges of future law abidingness.

The outlook, therefore, for the forthcoming election, which American officials will supervise in November, was represented to President Coolidge as very favorable.

Tipsy Driver Lands
in Sycamore Prison

DeKalb—Captured Sunday by state highway officers who chased him several miles, Joe Ormsby, Terre Haute, Ind., is in the county jail at Sycamore today awaiting trial on charges of transportation and possession of liquor and driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Receiving word at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night that a drunken motorist was traveling toward Sycamore from the east, two state highway patrolmen, O. N. Lareson and I. L. Elmdorf, set out to intercept him.

Ormsby, they said, attempted to give them "the slip" and it was not until two hours later that they overtook the car and brought the driver to Sycamore. Forty gallons of alleged alcohol were found in the machine.

TWO ARE INDICTED.

Chicago, July 24—(AP)—James A. Walsh, alias George Reed, of Elgin, Ill., said to have a record of prison terms in Massachusetts and also in Illinois, is in the county jail awaiting trial on charges of larceny by bailer, larceny, and embezzlement, on which he was indicted by the criminal grand jury, July 19.

The indictment names Lavett L. Vanmeter, a former employer of Walsh as the complaining witness and charges that Walsh collected and did not turn in $42.89 from the law firm of Linaweaver & Linaweaver of Chicago on May 15, 1927.

ALL MEXICO IN MOURNING TODAY
FOR DEAD FLIER

All Government Business Suspended for Funeral Service

Mexico City, July 24—(AP)—Surrounded by flowers the body of Captain Emilio Carranza lay in state today as Mexico observed a day of national mourning. Government offices and schools were closed and private business was at a standstill.

Soldiers of the presidential guard stood stiffly erect with drawn swords around the casket of the flyer whom his countrymen consider a martyr to the cause of international friendship. The great state chamber of the National Palace where the body lay became a national shrine.

Many of the flowers came from persons who gathered their simple tributes from the wild blooms of the field.

Captain Carranza came back to the capital of his nation with an escort of planes flying overhead and school children along the ten mile route from Tacuba to the Palace strewing flowers in the path of the artillery caisson that carried his body.

United States Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow and his staff were among the first to bow their heads as the casket was taken from the special caisson. Their presence gave rise to comment that Captain Carranza's mission of good will had not failed with his death.

Tonight Captain Carranza will rest among his country's illustrious dead in the portion of Dolores Cemetery reserved for them.

The funeral procession began from the war department wing of the National Palace where the body had lain in state since yesterday, through the heart of the business and residential section. All night long a guard of honor stood over his coffin and hundreds of persons passed through the room.

Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico, was one of the first to reach the War Department and soon after came American army officers who had escorted the body from New York to Mexico City, high Mexican officials and Sebastian Carranza, father of the dead aviator.

Great crowds, almost as large as those which saw the arrival of the body in Mexico City yesterday, packed the streets.

The casket still covered with the Mexican and United States flags, was showered with flowers by thousands along the route to the cemetery.

Sunday Biggest Day of Season at Lowell

Sunday was the busiest day of the 1928 season at Lowell Park and it was roughly estimated that no less than 10,000 automobiles passed in and out of the gates during the day and evening. With this number of machines but three accidents were reported on the Lowell park road during the day and the evening, minor importance. One car threw a wheel when passing over a culvert and two others scraped fenders.

The entire park acreage was besieged with picnickers throughout the day and the bathing beach was the most popular spot in the park. It was the first ideal summer Sunday of the season and thousands of people sought refuge from the sun and heat and enjoyed the day at the park.

The automobile traffic was so heavy that park employees were unable to handle the parking of machines and State Highway Officer Kenneth Church was assigned to duty in the park and on the Lowell Park road.

Raskob Quits Post
With Gen. Motors

New York, July 24—(AP)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, has resigned as chairman of the General Motors Corporation finance committee, it was learned today from authoritative sources.

Mr. Raskob will remain as Vice President of the motor company and will resume his position as head of the finance committee at the close of Governor Smith's campaign for the presidency, it was learned.

An official statement, it was said, is to be issued later in the day.

The General Motors directors had accepted his resignation from the committee, it was learned, "with deep regret but with the hope that he would resume its chairmanship after the election in the fall."

Mendota Man Waits
for Friends' Money

LaSalle—Robert Nance, Mendota, resident was a prisoner in the LaSalle city jail Monday morning, awaiting the arrival of friends who were to pay a fine of $10 and costs for him. Nance was taken into custody Sunday night for disorderly conduct and when arraigned this morning was fined but was unable to pay that amount. He was returned to his cell until friends came to his aid.

WEDNESDAY TO BE
WOMEN'S DAY AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

Popular Play "Smilin' Through" Will be Given This Eve

An unusually large crowd attended the opening programs of the Chautauqua on Monday afternoon and evening. The management is highly pleased with the attendance of the first day. The gate receipts went far beyond the expectations of Platform Manager Rogers. "I am very well pleased with the success of our Rev. Rogers. The platform manager was introduced to the chautauqua audience at the opening of the afternoon program Monday by Rev. L. V. Walter, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church and president of the Chautauqua board.

Mrs. Oliver of the Filipino Quintet, thrilled her audience with her vocal selections last night. At the close of her numbers she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by the Woman's Club of Dixon.

Play This Evening

Tonight's program will doubtless draw a large crowd. "Smilin' Through," a very interesting and entertaining production will be presented by the Bergmann Play Company.

Wednesday is Woman's Club Day. Mrs. L. N. Deutch, president of the Federated Women's Club of Dixon, and a member of the chautauqua board, is behind the Club movement and is doing everything possible to interest the ladies of Dixon in the chautauqua program for Wednesday. The program for Wednesday is exceptionally strong. Sidney W. Landon in his lecture-recital will be sure to please everybody. He presents character studies and speaking likenesses of great literary men, appealing both to the eye and the ear and always entertaining and instructive. Through his interpretative art men like Mark Twain, Bill Nye, Longfellow, Poe, Tennyson, Hugo, Thackeray and Kipling live again.

Thursday and Friday will be two good days in joint program. Don't forget that Friday is Dixon Day and on this day the management anticipate an unusually large attendance.

FRENCHMEN HOPE TO RESUME LONG
FLIGHT WEDNES.

Seaplane La Frégate is Held in Horta for Minor Repairs

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, July 24—(AP)—The French crew of the seaplane La Frégate, which arrived at Horta early yesterday on a flight from France to the United States, hope to continue their trans-Atlantic voyage tomorrow.

One of the motors of the plane failed to work on the latter part of the flight from Brest to Horta, but the plane was hoisted on the breakwater immediately for repairs. One of the floats also was found to be leaking and this was repaired.

"We had a good flight to Horta, the machine behaving splendidly except for the latter part when one of the engines was not working," Lieut. Paulin Paris, in command of the trip, told The Associated Press today.

"At present we are repairing this and also one of the floats. We hope to leave tomorrow, meteorological conditions will decide whether we go to Bermuda or Halifax."

Lieutenant Paris said that he was delighted to meet Captain Frank T. Courtney, British airman, who also is in Horta ready to take off for America by way of Newfoundland. Captain Courtney's plane does not carry as much gasoline as the French machine and he has been waiting for good weather conditions before making the long hop.

Lacoste Shot Back
at Tennis Officials

Auteuil, France, July 24—(AP)—Rene Lacoste has decided he will not defend his American tennis championship this year and will not play in the United States with the remainder of the French team next month, he announced today.

Lacoste insisted the decision was not prompted by the Franco-American controversy concerning the barring of "Big Bill" Tilden from the Davis Cup challenge round. He said he made up his mind several weeks ago.

The general interpretation of Lacoste's action at the stadium here where he and Jean Borotra were playing a match in the inter-club championships, was that France was taking a shot back at the United States Lawn Tennis Association for the disqualification of Tilden, which the French consider has practically wrecked interest in the challenge round for the Davis Cup help by France for the first time in history.

JURY IN CONDEMNATION SUIT
DOUBLES AMOUNT OF OFFER IN

The jury in the County Court which for the last five days has been hearing evidence in the condemnation proceedings brought against the Julia Dwyer farm property in Marion township for a right of way for state route 89, returned a verdict this morning at 2 o'clock. The jury received their final instructions and retired to consider a verdict about 5:30 last evening. After supper, they settled down to deciding the damages to the property.

The verdict as returned into the county court this morning assessed damages to land not taken at $2,479 and for the land necessary for the construction of the highway over the proposed present route at $1,564.

Julia Dwyer Krouse, Mary Dwyer and James E. Dwyer were the parties who objected to the new state highway passing through the farm, because of damages to buildings. The amount of land sought by the condemnation action was 5.842 acres. The proposed right of way as surveyed and for which Marion township was liable, would have cut through a barn, taking approximately 10 feet from the side of a 70 foot structure and would have damaged other farm properties, it was shown. It was reported that an offer of $2,000 had been made for the damaged property, but the verdict of the jury more than doubled this amount.

Attorney John P. Devine appeared for the plaintiffs and State's Attorney Keller for the state Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Mrs. Fisher is a student of historic places and for a long time she has been anticipating a visit to Dixon.

"PINES" ARE POPULAR

Custodian Hale Scott of the Pines state park, was a business caller in Dixon this morning. He reported a marked increase in the number of visitors at the recently acquired state park over former years. Patrons of the beautiful white pine forest are urging the building of a swimming pool at the park, which it is said could be done at a small expense. The roads leading to the park are in excellent condition and it is certain that with the public's knowledge of the fine picnic and outing grounds thousands will visit the forest who have never known of its existence.

YOUNG SHOPLIFTERS

Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber was busy yesterday for several hours yesterday rounding up articles which had been stolen from the Montgomery Ward store and locating three youthful shop lifters who have been active, particularly in the sporting goods department. A large amount of stolen goods, much of which had been sold, was collected during the day and the trio of youthful thieves were brought to the station for questioning. No action had been taken today toward the prosecution.

OBREGON PARTY LEADERS NOT TO ASK JOSE'S LIFE

Think Assassin was "Victim" of Labor Party Influence

Mexico City, July 24—(AP)—Jose de Leon Toral, who shot to death Gen. Alvaro Obregon, was himself an irresponsible victim of superior intellects, in the viewpoint of the agrarian political body. For that reason, said Aurelio Manrique, spokesman for the party, his death is not demanded by that element.

"We regard Obregon's assassin as a personage who was controlled by superior outside forces," said Manrique today. "We do not demand his death but we do demand justice and we believe this can be achieved most quickly by removal from the government of those labor leaders whose anti-Obregon activities created the atmosphere for the mad act of the assassin."

The influence wielded by those labor leaders must be wiped out of Mexican public affairs."

The statement was given in explanation of the part which the Agrarians took last night in action by the union of revolutionary parties which decided to eliminate all members of the labor party from the legislative as well as the executive departments of the government. This action was a sequel to the resignations of Luis Morones, Minister of Labor, and two minor government officials who were members of the labor party.

The union has also opened fire on state governors who belong to the Morones party or who have expressed anti-Obregon sentiments.

BINDER ACCIDENT
MAY COST YOUTH OF POLO AN ARM

Cecil Plum Victim of Accident at Home
Last Evening

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, Ill., July 24—Cecil Plum, son of Rev. S. S. Plum of six miles north-east of Polo, is in the Deaconess hospital in Freeport, facing possible amputation of his left arm as the result of having it caught and terribly mangled in a binder at his father's home at about 6 o'clock Monday evening.

The young man, in an effort to clear some grass from the machine, got his arm caught so tightly it was necessary to remove the front of the binder before he could be released.

He was taken at once to the Freeport hospital, where emergency treatment was given, after which an X-ray picture of the mangled member was taken, which disclosed conditions which the attending surgeons fear may make amputation necessary.

The picture showed the bone above the elbow to have been crushed into probably a hundred splinters, while the bones of the lower arm were also cruelly fractured.

IS HELD TO GRAND JURY; NO BOND IS ALLOWED BY COURT

Plager's Widow is Given
Her Freedom After His Arraignment

Rockford, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Under a charge of first degree murder and without bond, Paul Reed, 24, was bound over to the October county grand jury today when given a preliminary hearing for the slaying of Vernon Plager, radio expert, blown up in his automobile last week.

The arraignment in police court was a mere formality, but came shortly after Reed had confessed stealing the dynamite that was found last night in his former rooming house. The dynamite had been identified as having been stolen from a quarry near Polo, last week a day before Plager was blown to his death.

Admitted Theft

While admitting the theft of the explosive, Reed maintained he did not use it for bombing Plager's automobile, insisting he had taken it to blast out a spring at a lake in southern Wisconsin where he intended to go on a fishing trip. He said he was all ready to leave on the trip when he was arrested last week. Equipment for a camping trip was found in his rooming house.

Reed, while steadfastly maintaining his innocence and refusing to comment on the bombing, was formally charged with the murder yesterday. A coroner's jury previously had recommended he be held for the grand jury. He was linked with the slaying as a result of an affair he had had with Mrs. Iva Plager, widow of the radio man, who also was taken into custody as a suspect. She was released this afternoon, however, after having been held since Plager's death last Thursday.

"Threw One in River"

After Reed admitted stealing the dynamite, he accounted for one stick that was missing by saying it had been broken. "So I threw it into Rock river."

Experts said it was a dynamite bomb that wrecked Plager's car last Thursday when he stepped on the self-starter.

Early today two sticks of dynamite, wire of the type used on the bomb and twelve percussion caps were found in the basement of the rooming house where Reed lived before his arrest.

The materials, which were found in a hole in the basement wall were turned over to State's Attorney W. D. Knight, who will prosecute the case.

Authorities placed particular significance in the finding of two sticks of dynamite. Reed's brother, Arthur, and his son, Kenneth, nephew of the accused, told police that Reed had entered a quarry near Polo and had stolen three sticks of dynamite.

Plager was killed when he stepped on the starter of his automobile, to which the bomb was wired, and was blown into the air. Reed and Mrs. Plager have run away together last autumn, but were arrested and returned. The husband and wife became reconciled because of their five year old daughter.

Just before he died Plager accused Reed and later when questioned Mrs. Plager also blamed him. Reed steadfastly has refused to talk about the case.

Reed nearly collapsed Monday morning when Assistant Chief of Police Homer Read of Rockford read a warrant to him charging him with the murder. He gulped nervously when the word "murder" was uttered, but made no comment.

Maintains Silence

Questioned briefly by Assistant Chief Read and State's Attorney William D. Knight, the murder suspect would make no admissions, stating that he was acting on the advice of his attorneys.

Removed to County Jail

The suspect was moved from his quarters in the city jail to a cell in the county jail at noon Monday and every precaution has been taken to avoid his doing violence to himself.

When taken into the matron's room at the city hall Monday morning, Reed did not look at the reporters who crowded the quarters. He showed no emotion when facing the photographers.

Staggered by Warrant

A second later, however, when the murder warrant was read, he seemed about to totter backward, slightly, but quickly recovered his pose.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Rose, who knew Reed as a boy when the two went to Blake school, asked the prisoner as he was on his way to his cell:

"Well, Paul, have they anything on you?"

Reed hesitated before he answered. Then he said, in a mumbling tone hardly understandable:

"Well, I don't know much."

Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock Mrs. Plager was taken to the court house by Police Matron Ida Patterson and was questioned by State's Attorney Knight. There was no intention of questioning her further before Reed, and the state's attorney did not intend.

Death Sentence in Sabotage Trial

"And from this sentence there can be no appeal." So intoned Wyshinski, President of the Russian Tribunal in sentencing to death eleven of the men accused of sabotage in the mining district of the Donetz Basin. In the upper picture, before the microphone through which the famous trial was broadcast, Wyshinski is shown reading the decision. Below are some of the doomed men as they heard the verdict.

THE SONG OF THE RED, RED TIE—

Some may long for the soothing touch

Of lavender, cream and mauve,
But the ties I wear must possess the glare
Of a red hot kitchen stove.
The books I read, and the life I lead
Are sensible, sane and mild.
I like calm hats, and I don't wear spats,
But I want my neckties wild.

CHORUS
Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a cosmic urge;
A tie that will swear
And rip and tear
When it sees my old blue serge.

O, some will say that a gent's cravat
Should only be seen, not heard;
But I want a tie that will make men cry.
And render their vision blurred.
I yearn, I long, for a tie so strong
It will take two men to tie it.
I wish there be, just show it to me—
Whatever the price, I'll buy it.

REFRAIN
Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a lot of sins;
A tie that will blaze
In a hectic haze
Down where the vest begins
—Author's Whereabouts Unknown.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Peaches, cereal cooked with dates, cream, eggs poached in milk, graham toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Macaroni with peanut butter, mock cauliflower, shredded lettuce salad, cookies, cake, milk, coffee.

Mock Cauliflower
Three cups diced radishes, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 1/4 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, paprika, parsley.
Wash radishes thoroughly and cut in dice. Cook until tender in boiling water to which 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon sugar have been added. Drain. Melt butter, stir in flour and when bubbling slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add prepared radishes. Season with salt and pepper and add paprika to make faintly pink. Turn into a serving dish and sprinkle with minced parsley to serve.

Bridge Made Easy

(Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card lower than 10.)

When your partner doubles informatively opponents' no trump or suit bid of one, you must make a declaration. To remain silent, no matter how weak your hand may be, is seldom justifiable. The weaker your hand, the greater the necessity of making a declaration. Your partner may at times place you in an uncomfortable position but that is not your fault. The responsibility of making an unwarranted double is upon your partner. Place your trust in your partner and bid.

When your partner makes an informatory double, you should respond giving preference in the following order:

(1) The longest and strongest of either major containing any four or more cards.
(2) Any major containing four cards in preference to a stronger minor.
(3) The longest and strongest minor.

Applying the foregoing principles, assume that your partner doubles opponents' bid and you hold each of the following hands. Your procedure should then be as follows:
(1) Spades—J X X X; hearts—X X X; diamonds—X X X; clubs—X X X. One spade.
(2) Spades—X X X; hearts—K X X X; diamonds—X X X; clubs—A K Q X X. One heart.
(3) Spades—Q X X X; hearts—K J X X X; diamonds—X X X; clubs—X X. One heart.
(4) Spades—A J X X; hearts—K X X diamonds—A Q X; clubs—J X X X. No trump.
(5) Spades—X X X; hearts—X X X; diamonds—K J X X X; clubs—X X X. No trump.
(6) Spades—K X X; hearts—X X X; diamonds—X X X X; clubs—J X X X. Two clubs. Never bid a three card suit.

GRACE CHURCH SHEPHERD'S CLASS WILL HOLD PICNIC—
The Shepherd's Class of the Grace Evangelical Church will hold their picnic at Lowell Park, Thursday evening July 26th. All members are urged to be present.

Short Interviews With Famous Women

"Women are the logical managers for hotels because managing a hotel is just keeping your own home on a larger scale. And of course women are the born home-makers."

This is the opinion of Mrs. Margaret Lee Randle, of The Barbazon, New York's new, exclusive hotel for women.

Born one of the Lee's of Virginia, Mrs. Randle's term "homemaking" just naturally includes that heart warming Southern hospitality. Her flair for it gave her fame as the successful manager of the largest bachelor hotel in the world before she took her present position.

"Women instinctively pay attention to details, to the small wants of guests," Mrs. Randle said. "Women are much more consistent in their policies than men, I really believe. And of course their intuition tells them when to make an exception to their hard and fast hotel rules."

"I do not think women can do everything. In such exact sciences as bridge or skyscraper building, for instance, I think only the exceptional woman could ever succeed. But in all work where the human equation enters, women are at home and therefore have a better chance at success."

SPENT WEEK END AT LOWELL PARK LODGE—

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rising of Evanston, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albright at Lowell Park Lodge for the week-end returned to Chicago, from which city they leave for Detroit for a visit. Mrs. Albright is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rising.

THEY SPAR FOR TIME.

Political leaders are sparring to gain a little time in which to recover their wind. They are required to talk, to say something every day for a public that has been given a taste of a presidential campaign. It is too soon after the conventions for them to say much that is worth saying, because they do not know what summer heat will bring forth. In both parties are groups that have been fighting each other and they have not quit entirely. When the partisans unite, as they will to a large degree, and begin turning their guns upon each other, the scenery will be different.

So far as republicans are concerned, it will be a relief when Herbert C. Hoover begins to speak for himself. What his spokesmen say serves the purpose of giving the public a meal of political gossip every day, but it does not have the ring of authority. It is time-killing, space-filling stuff.

Managers do not like it to appear that they are letting the campaign die on their hands, so they keep feeding the public something. Issues have not yet crystallized enough to indicate what course events will take through the rest of the summer and into the autumn. Dr. Work, chairman of the republican national committee, issued a statement in which he indicated that the liquor issue will be ignored by his organization. His intentions are good, but we do not see how he is going to ignore it in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Delaware and Maryland.

The issue there will be made not by Dr. Work, but by the democrats. The party that is out usually makes the "paramount" issue. It may be free silver, it may be militarism and anti-imperialism, it may be government ownership of railroads, it may be guarantee of bank deposits, all issues that were forced by democrats. Republicans had to meet them and did meet them.

On the other hand, in 1920 the republicans forced the issue of opposition to the league of nation, and the democrats had to accept it.

We can not choose the issue upon which the opportunity proposes to go to the people. Our job is to meet it. In this campaign, democrats not only will select the issue, but they will name the field of battle. The issue will be "wet or dry" and the battle ground will be on the Atlantic seaboard. The south will go democratic and the west will go republican, regardless of the issue elsewhere, but the states named above will hold the balance of power.

The wet and dry issue will be carried west into Ohio cities and as far in our direction as Chicago. In the remainder of the territory of the west the voters will be looking at some interest other than beer.

We can not dodge the facts and we can not dodge the issues. We may as well make up our minds to meet them.

Prosperity ought to mean more to this nation than any other issue impending, and that probably is what Dr. Work meant; but we must remember that even prosperity has been voted down on fanciful promises by the opposition.

A New York policeman, chosen as a member of a debating team for the City College of New York, won a debate the other night. More policemen ought to go in for this work, and we'll wager a police traffic squad could defeat any college in the country.

The navy is investigating to find out whether or not married sailors should receive more pay than single ones. It is perfectly obvious they should—being more skilled in the way of battle.

A California man is suing his former wife for more alimony. Now and then some red-blooded he-man steps out to help strike off the shackles that the poor male has worn for thousands of years.

A British official, criticizing America's proposal to outlaw war, remarked that "the United States goes on increasing the size of her navy." Mere ornaments, of course, not armaments.

Secretary Work says "protection" is the big issue in this presidential campaign. We thought most of the bootleggers already were being pretty well taken care of.

France, Germany and Great Britain all like Secretary Kellogg's proposed pact to outlaw war. Wonder what's wrong with it?

Action is asked by cemetery associations to prevent couples petting there. It seems to be a grave problem.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

Right to the cork the string was tied and Clowdy Tinymite said, "I'd prefer to stand and watch you while you pull with all your might." "Oh, no you don't," snapped Clowdy loud. "You come and join right in this crowd. If we all pull at once I think the cork will pop all right."

And then the Tinies had their fling at pulling hard upon the string. They formed into a long, long line and Clowdy yelled, "Heave ho! If we have luck and naught goes wrong, and everyone of us is strong, we'll soon be looking in the crock. Come on now lads, let's go!"

And then they pulled, and pulled some more, and found that trouble was in store. "My goodness, but that cork's in tight," said Clowdy in despair. "We all are working hard, no doubt, but, shucks, we cannot pull it out. I really thought by now it would be flying through the air."

They tried again, but still no luck. "It looks to me like we are stuck," wailed Carpy, as he settled down to rest upon the ground. "Perhaps we all are shy of brawn. I feel just like my strength is gone." Then Clowdy, who had also stopped to rest, jumped with a bound.

"I have a brainy plan," said he.

"Now, all you Tinies hark to me. Instead of pulling steady, why not jerk the cork real quick. Of course this may not pry it loose, but we can put my plan to use, and soon find out. I really think the stunt is rather slick."

The Tinymites were very glad to try this plan, since they had had no luck in any other way. "Well, everyone please keep in step," said Clowdy. Then a shout announced the cork had popped right out. The Tinies saw a fairy queen, while sitting in a heap.

(The Fairy Queen surprises the Tinymites in the next story.)

FLATULENCE OR GAS
Almost every patient is troubled with intestinal and stomach gas. Hundreds of people are dying each day from the mechanical effects of this gas pressing against their hearts and other vital organs. Many functional and chronic disorders are a result of the continual irritation from food fermentation.

There is a small amount of air or gas present in the alimentary tract at all times. It is the excessive amount which causes painful symptoms. Many pains in various parts of the body sometimes far removed from the digestive organs are only reflexes from intestinal pains from stretching by gas.

Many patients have the odd habit of unconsciously swallowing air with their food or at the same time that they imagine themselves belching. I have examined many patients under the x-ray who, not having any gas in their stomachs would begin belching. Immediately I could see them swallowing bubbles of air which soon filled their stomachs and caused unpleasant symptoms. This is simply a bad habit which must be corrected.

Any inflammation of the stomach or intestinal tract will produce gas even when one is not eating. Patients who correct their diet sometimes wonder why the gas does not immediately disappear, but it often continues to form until the inflammation has subsided and digestion takes place normally. Overeating, bad food combinations, eating too rapidly, eating when tired, drinking too much with meals, eating too often, using indigestible foods, and the use of foods which are gas-forming or themselves are also causes of this trouble.

After all these bad habits have been corrected, it sometimes takes several months to eliminate most of the gas-forming bacteria which are in the intestines for the purpose of breaking up food materials that have been used in excess or in bad combinations. One who lives on an ordinary diet may harbor millions of these harmless bacteria whose purpose is to bring about changes in food which would otherwise be poisonous.

It is well for one afflicted with flatulence to taboo all onions, garlic, chives, cabbage, turnips and condiments, and to select a suitable diet to which they will adhere strictly until they have overcome their trouble. Those who use restricted diet where a smaller amount of food is used will often be surprised to notice that they have more gas than they did before while eating carelessly. This is because the small amount of food does not entirely use up the digestive juice, and the result is that gas is formed when the excessive acid fluids of the stomach pour into the intestines and are neutralized by the alkaline intestinal juices.

Doctors should use the x-ray as an aid to the diagnosis of all digestive troubles, for which cases so examined they will usually discover a large pocket of gas, sometimes as big as a toy balloon, just underneath the heart. Sometimes this is not easily belched up, and one so afflicted will not realize that the condition exists.

Many women's disorders are aggravated or entirely caused by the distention of the intestines with poisonous gases which force the pelvic organs out of their normal position. Most cases of flatulence can be benefited or cured by following the "Cleansing Diet" regime which I so frequently advocate. Those who are literally walking "gas factories" will do well to send for the special article I have prepared on this "Cleansing Diet."

QUESTION: K. J. asks: "Is there any way of making a large nose small by operation? If so, is it dangerous, and where would you advise me to go for it, and what is the cost of such an operation?"

ANSWER: I would not advise anyone to try to reduce the size of his nose by an operation unless, perhaps, he happens to be in the theatrical business. This operation is dangerous, and always very expensive if performed by a skilled plastic surgeon. You should be proud of your large nose, as physiognomists and phenologists tell us it is a sign of great mental powers.

QUESTIONS: J. D. writes: "I receive a great deal through your daily writings, and am wondering if you would advise eating dried figs, prunes, and fruit of that kind without being stewed?"

ANSWER: The dried fruits you mention can be used without cooking and are even more wholesome when used in this manner. Some enjoy the flavor of the fruits when they are soaked over night in a small amount of water, and then eaten without being cooked.

QUESTION: W. R. S. writes "I am a little near-sighted and look very funny in glasses. Could my eyes be cured any other way besides wearing glasses?"

ANSWER: Near-sightedness can be helped to some degree by improving the general health, and by taking the eye exercises. Those exercises will strengthen the muscles of the eyes sometimes enough so that you can go without glasses, even though your eye defect is not entirely corrected. It is advisable to wear glasses at least when reading, as long as the near-sightedness continues.

DIXON WRITTEN UP IN JOURNAL OF HISTORY SOC.

Nachusa Tavern is Theme of Article in Re- cent Issue

In a recent issue of the Journal published by the Illinois State Historical Society, Paul Wilson Elder, writing of early taverns and inns in Illinois makes reference to the Nachusa Tavern in this city. His article pertaining to the historical hostelry is as follows:

"And tales were told
Of Indians, bears and panthers
bold,
Till on each urchin's frowny head
The bristling hair stood up with dread."

(John Bryant).
"John Dixon was a pioneer well known to the early settlers of the surrounding country. The Indians named him 'Nachusa'—meaning Old Grey Head, because of his flowing white hair and smooth shaven face. Mr. Dixon was one of the earliest pioneers of what is now Bureau county coming here from Springfield in 1827 and living here until 1829 when he sold his land to Charles Boyd and went to settle on Rock River. Arriving there, he purchased the Ogee ferry, from Joseph Ogee, the son of a squaw and French trader, thereafter it was known as Dixon's Ferry, and his home as 'Nachusa Tavern.' Here it was, that the kettle hung over the fire, and the corn meal baked in the oven, while his friends, white man or Indian, might sit around the fire and smoke."

"The old records kept by Mr. Dixon are still in existence and are very interesting. They show plain entries and prices charged his customers, and give the names of many Indians to whom he gave credit. Some of these were Old Grey Headed Pottawatomie, Old Grey Headed Fat Son, Man-With-A-Sick-Squaw, Mother Flat Face, Blinky, Limpy, and Sour Eads Ox. Food for man and horse is billed at 25 cents and a bed cost a quarter. Nachusa often entertained honored guests, and for all men who passed up Rock River stopped under the roof tree of that honored pioneer, Shabbona once said, 'Me, white man's friend, but all white men not like Nachusa.'"

At the beginning of the Black Hawk War, when nineteen hundred volunteers answered the call, Mr. Dixon was commissioned to furnish the provisions and was called 'Major of the Steer-Battalion,' and to feed so great a host in the wilderness was no small task. At this time among John Dixon's customers were, Abraham Lincoln, soldier; Jefferson Davis, who is later to guide the Confederacy; Albert Sidney Johnston, who is to head Davis' armies; William S. Hamilton, son of Alexander Hamilton, and Zachary Taylor, who is to precede Lincoln by a few years as President of the United States. Zachary Taylor's account shows that he ran a bill of $11.50 at John Dixon's; he paid $5.00 on account, and gave his note for the remaining $6.50.

Gr-r-r-r Where's That Weather Man?

Summer furs are fashionable, beyond a doubt. But if you think they're the least bit comfortable, just ask the one who wears them. "Wozzo Moonshine," giant prize-winning English sheepdog at the Richmond, England, championship show, probably felt like chewing up the weather man when this picture was taken. Even the manicure and thorough grooming he was being given by his mistress, Miss C. Wellesley, didn't bring much relief from the heat.

"Nachusa Tavern on Galena Avenue in Dixon, now a prominent hotel, was built in 1837, later remodeled, then rebuilt, and doubtless its many patrons would be greatly interested in its history, as one of the oldest Taverns in Illinois."

"The beautiful city of Dixon is a fitting monument to John Dixon's memory. He lived here until he was a very old man, surviving all his family. He accumulated much wealth at one time and was known far and wide as one of the warm hearted and benevolent pioneers, whose enterprise, public spirit and warm generosity, were like sweet sunshine to all about him."

"The Telegraph established in 1881 is the oldest paper in Northern Illinois. Chuck full of news every day."

Mental Habits in Child's Growth

By Ira C. Brown, M. D., Seattle, Wash., Medical Inspector, Seattle Public Schools

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Gorgas Memorial, which has its headquarters at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

There are two theories as to the mental height that a developing child may attain.

One theory is that we are born with a certain character of germ-plasm that will give us our mental range regardless of suggestion, environment, and education and that the child cannot go mentally higher than it is definitely predestined to go.

The other theory is that heredity has but little influence provided the child is healthy and has a well-formed head and brain, but that the child develops almost entirely through its general health, its mental suggestion, its training, and its education.

The truth is that both of these theories are partly true. A child is born with a certain quality of brain substance and certain tendencies which he gets from his ancestors. On the other hand the child is so organized that environment, training, suggestion, and education do have a tremendous effect upon his mental attainment. It is, therefore, necessary that we watch and guide the child's mental habits, teaching him to discard improper thinking and inducing him to cultivate proper mental habits.

The child who is sensitive, resentful, and who gets into habits of self-centeredness develops a handicap. The child whose imagination is allowed to run wild, the child who is kept so active that it has no time for meditation, the child whose associates are among those of low mentality or among adults whose conversation and expressions are beyond his reach, the child whose thought is based upon emotions and desires rather than upon understanding and reasoning, and the child who is forced to study and think too much along lines in which it has no aptitude or talent are injured by the development of improper mental habits.

Remember you cannot drill education or anything else into the child's mind. What little they get that way is simply through coerced memory and is soon forgotten. No child was ever made a real musician by being compelled to practice on the piano. No brain was ever developed by making the child learn by heart long lessons he did not understand. What we should do is to stimulate the child's interest to form steady, logical, contemplated mental habits and to stimulate its ambition to think out its problems for itself with the help not at the dictation of its elders. We can compel the child to go to school but we cannot give it compulsory education.

Olympic Slants

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
Amsterdam, Holland, July 24—(AP)—A combination of pitfalls has beset America's Olympic teams, especially the track and field men, as they prepare for the start of the international contests Sunday.

The triple points of danger appear to be over-conditioning, over-confidence and perhaps most serious of all the poorly built practice track which coaches declare is ideally suited for an epidemic of pulled tendons, sprained ankles and sore muscles.

"I've never seen a cockier bunch of athletes in my life," asserted one American coach today. "They don't consider any of the foreigners in most of their events, arguing chiefly among themselves as to how much they will beat each other. They're assuming that the races, at least up to 800 meters, are in the bag for them. Such spirit perhaps is not harmful for it maintains rivalry among the boys but they may as well know now as later that they'll have a lot of tough races."

Scenes From Recent Wimbledon Tournament

The historic Wimbledon tennis championships are over, but the memory, especially in pictures, lingers on. It seems that when Rene Lacoste licks 'em, they stay licked. At least that is the impression one gets from the photograph of Lacoste helping H. W. Austin, the young British star, off the courts after their grueling match which Lacoste won.

The four young ladies standing together in the top photograph are Betty Nuthall, Fraulien Aussem, Mrs. Strawson and Mrs. Hemment. The two misses lost their doubles match to their older opponents. For real action, you have to hand the palm to Eileen Bennett. You almost might say "shame" to Eileen for this pose, below, but she was making a difficult shot when this was taken and it couldn't be helped. Good-looking Helen Jacobs and Johnny Hennessey are shown at the right below. They were victims of P. Spence and Elizabeth Ryan in the mixed doubles.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The Pirates of Pittsburgh, unwittingly innocuous all year, have set sail on a Corsair cruise that threatens to disturb the equanimity of all of the National League's assorted list of pennant contenders, actual and alleged.

A 2 to 1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the league's only game yesterday put the Pirates only five percentage points back of the Dodgers who are at the top of the second division.

With Grimes, Hill, Kremer, Brame, Fussell and Meadows now in something approaching good pitching form, Donnie Bush has been racing the Corsairs along at a fast pace for two weeks, of their last 16 starts, the National League champions have won 13.

Babe Ruth's fortieth home run of the season failed to save the Yankees from a decisive defeat at the hands of the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 3. Danny MacFadden, young bespectacled hander, was strong in the pinches and the Red Sox coasted into an easy triumph.

The Babe's drive put him 28 games 30 days and ten homers ahead of his record-breaking pace of 1927.

The Yankees retained their 10 1-2 game lead on the American League field, however, for the Athletics were blanked by Milt Gaston and the Washington Senator, 5 to 0. It was the A's first defeat in eight starts.

TILDEN WILL NOT BE REINSTATED, CULLOM STATES

Head of Lawn Tennis Assn. Says Decision Must Stand

London, July 23—(AP)—The decision of the United States Lawn Tennis Association to drop William T. Tilden from the Davis Cup team will stand according to Samuel H. Cullom, President of the U. S. L. T. A., who reached London today from Paris.

"The dropping of Bill Tilden from the Davis Cup team may or may not mean we lose the Davis Cup this year," said Cullom, "but it will have to stand. Tilden has not been absolutely disqualified. Charges have been brought before the executive committee and until these are determined it was deemed best to withdraw Tilden from Davis Cup play."

"I am a firm friend and believe he is the most popular player in England and America, and the U. S. L. T. A. is certainly indebted to him for the wonderful work he has been doing in connection with the Davis Cup."

Cullom added, however, that the decision in regard to Tilden did not mean that he would be permanently dropped. He stands a chance for reinstatement to play next year, he said.

Superior, Wis., July 24—(AP)—Six weeks on the Brule have made President Coolidge a true fisherman in the eyes of anglers of the north woods. Six weeks of constant practice, four hours every day except Sunday, have given him the correct snap of the wrist and movement from the elbow to the tip of the rod.

But the fact that the President has been converted to the use solely of dry flies is regarded as the real achievement of his vacation. During the first part of his stay at Cedar Island Lodge Mr. Coolidge wavered between worms and dry flies, alternating to see which brought the best results. Old fly fishermen of the region look with disfavor on those who would use worms and rejoicing was general when word spread finally that the President was using only dry flies, a sign he had entered the more skilled class of anglers.

During the first part of his stay at Cedar Island Lodge Mr. Coolidge wavered between worms and dry flies, alternating to see which brought the best results. Old fly fishermen of the region look with disfavor on those who would use worms and rejoicing was general when word spread finally that the President was using only dry flies, a sign he had entered the more skilled class of anglers.

President Coolidge has been an apt pupil, under the tutelage of his Indian guide, as his large daily catches indicate—usually eighteen good sized trout.

As his health was improved his enthusiasm was increased and spread to Mrs. Coolidge who several times has accompanied the President on the river. Son John, however, seems to prefer golf.

HEENEY HAPPY AND CONFIDENT OF TAKING GENE

New Zealander Does Not Expect Gene to Hit Him

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fairhaven, N. J., July 24—(AP)—Blunt Tom Heenev, unaccustomed to camouflaging his thoughts when interviewed plod him with questions, frankly admitted today that he is in the best condition of his fighting career, ready and eager to give Gene Tunney the battle of his life when they meet in the Yankee Stadium Thursday night for the world's heavy weight championship.

The six weeks training campaign of this good-natured, rock-ribbed New Zealander is over. He is glad of it. He finished his boxing yesterday. Today there was nothing for him to do but take a 15 minute workout in the gymnasium with no more work with the gloves. Tomorrow will be a day of complete relaxation with not even a gesture of training.

Heenev was in rollicking good humor. He had a cheery "Oh 'ello, 'ello," for everybody and a grin that was infectious. His easy-going disposition had returned, following the mental strain of Sunday when he boxed before Jack Dempsey, Promoter Tex Rickard and others.

"I have some ideas of course," the challenger said, "but they probably won't amount to much for the first three or four rounds until I get the feel of Tunney."

"One of my ideas is that he is not going to hit me very often with any one punch. Anybody can hit me a few times with any kind of a blow, but nobody can keep it up."

Heenev is genuinely confident of his ability to beat Tunney and bases his conclusion on one thought that has secretly convinced him that he will become world's heavyweight champion. That thought is, he believes boxers are easier for him than fighters, and Tunney is a boxer rather than a fighter.

AGED AMBOY MAN BADLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Thomas Moreland, aged 70, in Harris Hospital at Mendota

Thomas Moreland, 70-year-old Amboy resident, is a patient at Harris hospital in Mendota suffering serious injuries to his head as the result of an accident at about 8:30 o'clock Saturday night in which the Essex touring car in which he was riding along with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Frasier, of Amboy, crashed into the rear end of a heavily laden ice truck which was stalled on the right side of the road about two miles south of Mendota, on Route 2.

More than fifty stitches were required to close a series of cuts and lacerations to the aged man's head and physicians in attendance expressed doubt that a finger on the man's right hand, which was severely lacerated by flying glass, could be saved from amputation. Frasier, the driver of the car, which was north bound, suffered only minor cuts from shattered glass from the windshield and was able to return to his home Saturday night while his wife left the hospital Sunday afternoon after medical attention had been given lacerations on her arms, face and head also said to have been caused by glass particles.

Stalled On Road
The ice truck into which the Essex crashed was headed north and was stalled on the right side of the road, having been left there by the driver, Alfred Arndt, of Mendota, an employee of the Purity Ice Company while he went to Mendota to secure repair parts.
It was said that Mr. Frasier, who was returning to his home in Amboy with his wife and Mr. Moreland after a shopping visit in La Salle, did not see the ice truck until his machine was within a short distance of the vehicle and before he could swerve his machine to the left to pass around the truck the touring car collided with the truck, which was loaded with four tons of ice.

Taken To Hospital
Attendants at The Oasis, oil station and refreshment stand about two blocks from the scene of the accident, heard the crash and rushed to the scene and after rendering first aid to the victims summoned an ambulance from Mendota and the injured persons were taken to Harris hospital.

Just a few minutes after the occupants of the wrecked Essex had been taken to the hospital, another north-bound machine, an Oakland sedan driven by F. L. Carver, of Rockford, crashed into the wreckage and was badly damaged. As the Oakland ran into the wrecked cars the force of the impact tore loose a spare tire attached to the rear end of the car and the tire flew into the windshield of a passing southbound Pontiac coach said to have been owned by a Peru resident, shattering the glass in the windshield. The occupants of the Pontiac, a young man and a woman were not injured, it was said.

The Essex was damaged also beyond repair while the rear end of the ice truck also was damaged considerably. The entire front end of the Rockford car was smashed in, the fenders were dented and there were other damages to the Oakland.

An hour later at the Burlington passenger station he stabbed Chahaz when the latter tried to collect a $25 board bill from him. "I had been drinking moonshine all day and didn't know what I was doing," Perez told Chief of Police Frank Michels.

WILBUR REPORTS IMPROVEMENT IN NICARAGUA ISSUE

Going to Superior to Lay Matter Before the President

Superior, Wis., July 24.—(AP)—Intimations that he brought important and good news from Nicaragua to President Coolidge were made here today by Secretary Wilbur of the Navy Department upon arriving in Superior for an overnight stay at the summer White House.

Mr. Wilbur, upon detaining, admitted that the situation in Nicaragua would be his main topic of conversation with the Chief Executive, but refused to say what new development he would report to President Coolidge on the grounds that it had not been published yet and that he could not reveal it before speaking to Mr. Coolidge.

The Naval Secretary said, however, that advice from Nicaragua were very encouraging and that the outlook for the November elections in that country was very comforting. Recent defections from the outlawed forces of Sandino in Nicaragua, by which large numbers of men who had been hiding in the hills engaged in banditry surrendered their arms and gave pledges of future good behavior, were mentioned by Mr. Wilbur as showing the trend of affairs in Nicaragua towards stable conditions. The Naval Secretary indicated that the new development which he wanted to discuss with Mr. Coolidge was an even more important event in the situation.

Thomas Cochran, a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Company, arrived in Superior on the same train as Mr. Wilbur also bound for Cedar Island Lodge as Mr. Coolidge's guest, whose personal friend he is.

RESIGNATION OF MORONES HELPS MEX. SITUATION

Agrarian Leaders Insist that He Brought about the Murder

Mexico City, July 23.—(AP)—Resignation of Luis Morones, Secretary of Labor, whose life has been in danger since the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon, today was believed to have lessened the general feeling of tension.

Agrarian leaders, naming Morones as one of the "psychological authors" of the crime, had asserted that unless he withdrew from the government there would be civil warfare.

The central committee of the Regional Federation of Labor instructed Ed Morones and two other labor leaders, Celestino Gassa, Chief of Ordinance Supplies; and Eduardo Moneda, Chief of the government printing shops, to resign. President Calles accepted their withdrawal.

Colonel Ricardo Topete, acknowledged leader of the Obregon national party, said there was little likelihood of disturbances.

Either President Calles or Aaron Saez, Governor of Nueva Leon, will be named by Congress as provisional President of Mexico for two years.

Colonel Topete said.

Jose Le Leon Toral, slayer of General Obregon, is ready to pay for his crime with his life without trial, but the government continued firm today its decision to bring the young art student before the civil courts. Toral refused the protection of the Amparo or oatiars c fbheopruessuaocehtvil or writ of habeas corpus issued in his behalf Friday.

JOHNSON PLEDGES HELP TO HOOVER; WILL TAKE STUMP

California Senator's Visit With Nominee Was Fruitful

Stanford University, Cal., July 24.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover divided his time again today between work on his address of acceptance and conferences with political leaders and with Mayor James Rolph, Jr., concerning the homecoming celebration to be given his honor by San Francisco, probably on Friday.

Politics formed the subject of conferences the Republican Presidential candidate had arranged with Mrs. Worthington Scranton, National Committeewoman from Pennsylvania, and Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader of the House of Representatives, and chairman of the eastern speakers bureau. One of the questions which Tilson will have to determine is where Senator Hiram Johnson of California can be used to the best advantage during the campaign; whether his forcible argument will be of more value to the national ticket in the east or in the west.

Johnson to Stump
Senator Johnson, who was a luncheon guest of Secretary Hoover yesterday, has tendered his services and has left it to the campaign managers to say where he is to stump for the national ticket.

While the senior California Senator has come out for the Hoover-Curtis ticket, there are more than sufficient indications that he and the Republican Presidential nominee are not entirely in accord with respect to the activities of the public utilities associations, the "power trust" as the Senator describes it.

Sensor Johnson's informal statements to the newspapers correspondents after his talk with Mr. Hoover served only to strengthen the belief that the nominee will not seek to make this subject a campaign issue. The California Senator, who has been more often opposed to the Hoover policies in the past than in favor of them, said that it was for Mr. Hoover to state the issues.

To Fight "Power Trust"
He added, however, that he would make the "power trust" an issue in his own campaign, announcing that he would open fire next week in addresses in the southern part of the state. The Senator attributes to the "power trust" effective opposition to congressional action on his Boulder Canyon Dam Bill, which has failed of passage in the Senate during the past two sessions of Congress due to filibusters.

While his official homecoming celebration is to come later, Mr. Hoover received an impromptu one at his home last night which probably gave him as much if not more genuine delight than any he will receive in his home state. It was staged by twelve hundred young men and women students attending the Stanford University summer school.

SMITH AVOIDING CONFERENCES AS MUCH AS HE CAN

Democratic Nominee is Conserving Energy for Campaign

Albany, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—Deviating from the customary course of presidential nominees, Governor Smith has kept pretty much to himself since his selection as the democratic standard bearer nearly four weeks ago, and since then has held relatively few political conferences of importance.

While it has been his wish that for the present at least they be held to a minimum, almost daily he is in contact with old friends, advisers of long standing, and from time to time he has talked over the outlook with some party leader. There have been none of the pilgrimages to the home of the nominee as usually is the case, after a political convention.

As they returned from Houston various confidants of the Governor called on him here and gave first reports of the proceedings in Texas.

The new chairman, John J. Raskob, has not felt it necessary to come to Albany to talk things over with his closest friend the Governor, and their discussion of campaign organization and strategy has been mainly over the telephone.

The presidential nominee as his campaign shapes up intends to seek the advice of various men and women of prominence in the Democratic party, although he is expected to adhere to his policy of conserving his energy and resting by not clogging his engagement book with conferences.

Late this week, he expects to talk over the situation with Governor Ritchie of Maryland. The conference is being arranged at Smith's suggestion, but the time and place for it have not been determined.

Miner Owners Meet to Consider Scale

Chicago, July 24.—(AP)—An executive meeting of the Illinois Coal Operators Association was in session here today considering the proposal of Harry Fishwick, President of the Illinois Mine Workers, for calling a joint conference to negotiate if possible a few working agreement in place of the Jacksonville wage scale recently abandoned by the United Mine Workers.

W. J. Jenkins, who succeeded Rice Miller as president of the operators' association, presided at the meeting with 60 of the leading Illinois operators participating.

The operators have said they were willing to negotiate with the miners for a new agreement anytime they could meet without being bound by the Jacksonville compact and it is expected the operators will decide to appoint a committee for a joint conference.

MEMBERSHIP MANY CHURCHES GIVEN BY CENSUS DATA

Some of Larger Denominations
Have Not Yet Reported

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—The membership of the Roman Catholic church in the United States totaled 18,604,850 persons in 1926, an increase of nearly 20 per cent over the total membership of ten years before which was reported at 15,721,815. The figures were made public today by the Census Bureau as a part of its regular decennial count of religious body membership.

Catholic churches in 1926 numbered 18,939 as compared with 17,375 in 1916.

Census returns for a number of the larger Protestant denominations have been announced by the bureau for 1926, but are still incomplete and such large groupings as the Southern Baptist Convention have yet to be enumerated.

A total membership of 4,080,777 was reported for the Methodist Episcopal church for 1926 with 26,130 churches as compared with 29,315 churches and 3,717,785 members in 1916. The Methodist Episcopal Church South had 18,906 churches and 2,457,604 members in 1926 as compared with 19,184 churches and 2,114,479 members in 1916.

The Northern Baptist Convention in 1926 had 7612 churches and 1,290,438 members against 8148 churches and 1,232,135 members in 1916.

The Protestant Episcopal church for 1926 reported 7299 churches with 1,858,966 members while in 1916 it was credited with 7345 churches and 1,602,821 members.

The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America for 1926 reported 8947 churches and 1,894,030 members, against 9639 churches and 1,611,251 members in 1916.

There were 5257 Congregational churches with 901,846 members in 1926 against 5863 churches and 791,274 members in 1916.

The Negro Baptist church in 1926 had 22,082 churches and 3,196,823 members while in 1916 it had 21,071 churches and 2,938,579 members.

The Disciples of Christ had 7648 churches and 1,377,595 members in 1926 against a 1916 church total of 8,396 with 1,226,028 members.

All of the Protestant denominations the bureau explained, have a number of federated churches in which two or more denominations are associated.

All figures for 1926 were announced as preliminary and subject to correction.

FLOYD THOMPSON QUITS POSITION ON HIGH COURT

Democratic Nominee for Governor to Start
Campaign Soon

Chicago, July 24.—(AP)—Justice Floyd E. Thompson, Democratic nominee for Governor, today resigned as a member of the state Supreme Court. Thompson's statement follows:

"No lawyer in Illinois values the honorable office of Justice of the Supreme Court higher than I do. I have tried to fill it credibly. No man who has not experienced it can realize the attachment a member feels toward the court and those with whom he works in such confidential relations. I have found it hard to file my resignation, but I feel that I must do so.

"I realize that there are two sides to the question and I respect the judgment of the leaders of the bar and other representative citizens who have urged me to withhold my resignation; but I prefer to err on the side of safety rather than make it possible for any act of mine to cause embarrassment to our highest court or any of its members. There are issues in this campaign which must be discussed frankly and I want to be in a position to present my views without feeling that I am likely to be understood as committing the court to them.

"There are several wholesome provisions of the state constitution which have been nullified by practices now prevailing in the state house. As a member of the court I was helpless to initiate proceedings to restore constitutional government in Illinois, but if given the opportunity I can restore it as Governor. These issues I shall discuss freely.

"I appreciate more than I can express in words the great honor my people have conferred on me by giving me the opportunity to serve them on the Supreme Court of my native state, and I trust my resignation will not leave a different im-

Who's Who in Dogdom—No. 5

DACHSHUND LOOKS FUNNY BUT KNOWS HIS STUFF

The Dachshund or "der Teckel" has always been a big laugh in this country. There are a limited number of such dogs in the United States and the appearance of the Dachshund on the street, usually makes him the cynosure of all eyes and the reason for much merriment.

The Dachshund is always confused with a German owner, which is not pression. It is because I recognize the responsibility of the position and my obligations to the bar and the public to keep it free from suspicion of partisan influence that I am willing to make this great sacrifice.

"I have made no business or professional arrangements, tentative or otherwise, contingent on my defeat. I expect to win. I have confidence in the people and I do not believe that they will approve the treachery and corruption I shall expose."

far from the truth, for the dog is of German origin and is the national sporting dog of that country. The translation of the name tells the story, "Dachs" meaning badger and "hund" dog—badger dog.

In Germany the Dachshund is used to ground and mark foxes and badgers. He never attacks his quarry but merely barks and locates its position. At times, he is used for rabbit hunting, being a dog of many talents. He has great scenting power.

As a pal, the Dachshund cannot be equalled, being faithful, smart and a good guard. Of late years the Dachshund has been much improved in appearance. The breed is much more active than that of 25 years back and is very game. He has many of the qualities of the terrier.

The Great War played havoc with the Dachshund, owing to a temporary unpopularity, due to the fact that the dog was typically German and also because of certain breeding restrictions that were rigidly enforced.

In the last three or four years, the breed has almost returned to its pre-war standard. Dog fanciers with the good of the breed at heart and having no malice toward the dog because of its German origin, imported many of the best for breeding purposes and have made much progress in restoring the Dachshund to its high place in canine aristocracy.

After several years, in which the Dachshund was almost an extinct breed as far as show purposes were concerned, the breed is once more coming back into its own and many good specimens are to be seen at the leading shows in Europe and the United States.

YOUNG FANCIERS OF POULTRY WILL BE GIVEN CHANCE

Junior Poultry Show at State Fair to be Enlarged

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Chances for youthful chicken fanciers to win prizes at the junior poultry show of the state fair this year will be twice as great as last year.

This year, the prize money and the number of classes have been more than doubled. Fifteen classes will be open, with prize money totaling $400.

Prizes will be offered in each of the fifteen classes for the best pullet, pen and cockerel. Five birds will be placed, making a total of 225 possible money winners if every class has the maximum entries.

Premiums are offered for the best cockerel, pullet, and pen in these varieties: Buff Plymouth rocks, White Plymouth rocks, White Wyandottes, Buff Wyandottes, Rose Comb Rhode Island Red, Single Comb Rhode Island Red, Rhode Island Whites, and any other breed of the American class; Anconas, Brown Leghorns, White Leghorns and any other of the Mediterranean class; White Orpingtons, Buff Orpingtons, and any other of the English class.

Boys who wish to enter this show must have kept records on their poultry, showing they set not less than thirty eggs to hatch prior to May 15. They also are required to keep records of the costs and progress of their poultry projects. They may have conducted their projects under the direction of a 4-H club leader, or a vocational agriculture instructor.

Awards in the show, which will be run under regulation poultry show rules, will be placed by D. T. Heimlich, assistant chief state poultryman.

Entries in the junior show are expected to be large this year. Of the 181 schools in the state which conduct agricultural classes in their high school division, there are few which do not have students conducting poultry projects as a part of their class work; and most of these boys are expected to enter their birds.

Value of this feature of the state fair is stressed by fair officials, as an inducement to young farmers to take pride in producing pure bred, prize winning poultry.

FINE FOR PARKING

A FIRE PLUG usually has a "fine for parking" sign near it, but in letter golf you'll have to park while to get the solution. Par is nine and one solution, which you may be able to beat, is on page 11.

FIRE

1-You can change only one letter at a time.

2-You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump.

3-Change words and abbreviations don't count.

4-The order of letters cannot be changed.

the cost of feed. A cow producing 500 pounds returns $178.

One common barberry bush may produce 64,000,000,000 stem rust spores in a year, says the Department of Agriculture. One of these spores blown onto a grain plant, may produce a rust pustule containing 200,000 or more summer-rust spores. Any one of these spores on a grain plant may multiply itself by 200,000 within a week or so. It all figures out that under favorable conditions the total spores of the second generation would read 256, followed by 19 zeros.

Kiwanis of West Virginia are doing their bit toward reforestation. Each club in that state will form a committee. The duties of the committee consist of making talks before the various clubs and endeavoring to interest them in making a local forest plantation as part of the local park system, or in establishing town or community forests.

About 25 years ago a new profession, that of the plant explorer, started in the Department of Agriculture. Dr. B. T. Galloway tells something in the 1927 Yearbook of Agriculture about the romance and hard work of the profession. How the explorer must seek in the wildest parts of the world for disease resisting types of plants and vegetables. How sometimes, after securing his species, he is attacked by savage tribes, set up to be shot, but saved, like a movie hero, at the last moment, to bring his findings back to the United States.

Through the use of appropriate machinery, according to the Department of Agriculture, farmers in Pennsylvania can harvest and store an acre of hay in four hours while it takes farmers in the eastern states twice as long.

There's a system to woodcutting just as in anything else. Woods meetings on 19 farms in eight counties of New York were attended by state extension foresters, who demonstrated the proper method of marketing, cutting and stacking wood lots. A correct cutting leaves the woodland in better shape for future growth, foresters say.

The agricultural experiment station in Hawaii has been experimenting with various crops to determine one that can take the place of pineapples or sugar-cane in the event of the failure of these two crops. Present indications point to edible canna as the logical successor.

Gleanings of Farm News From About the State

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Rockford—(AP)—Triune Pieterje Ormsby, the Holstein-Friesian world's champion butter producer, has been added to the Logan Farm collection of fine cattle.

At 19 months, Triune Pieterje Ormsby produced 947.81 pounds of butter in 365 days. In the same period, she produced 21,152.70 pounds of milk. Her second calf, a heifer, was valued at $1,000.

Freeport—(AP)—A number of cases of severe coccidiosis in chickens have been reported in Stephenson county. It is said to be one of the most serious diseases in six weeks chicks. The Stephenson county farm bureau has undertaken control measures.

DeKalb—(AP)—A dairy herd improvement association has been formed in DeKalb county to keep records of cows of members. A tester will spend one day of each month with one herd, to sample each cow's milk and compute the record of the individual cows and the whole herd for the month. The tester also weighs the feed, figures the cost of production, and the net income per cow. Members then weed out the "boarder cows," building up their herds by keeping only calves from the best animals.

Yorkville—(AP)—Eighteen pure bred dairy calves have been enrolled in the Kendall county dairy club. The list consists of twelve guernseys, five holsteins and one milking shorthorn.

Pekin—(AP)—A group of thirty-six men have organized the Tazewell county Percheron Breeders' Association, and purchased the imported stallion, Brossac.

Brossac arrived in this country in December after a successful year in the French show rings. The 1922 record price, $4,500, was paid for him upon his arrival. The Tazewell county breeders hope he will become a famous sire of the breed.

Manhattan—(AP)—Through the aid of a big 10-horse hitch, William L. Seltzer and his two sons are able to work 316 acres this year.

Three three-year old colts have been broken in by the hitch, which, Seltzer believes, is the best place in the world to teach young horses to work.

With the horses spread out as they are in the hitch, there is plenty of circulation of air so that all are kept cool. The lead chains and the buck ropes are so arranged that all must keep in place, and each do his work. The eveners and whiffle trees are hooked up so the draft is equal for each horse.

Two lines, direct to the lead team, guide the ensemble. On turns there is no confusion. The four-horse teams are not tied together, so they have plenty of freedom for making turns.

Chicago—(AP)—Burridge D. Butler, publisher of the farm journal, Prairie Farmer, is now considering applicants for scholarships in Blackburn College at Carlinville for the coming school year. Farm boys and girls with "ambition, character and ability who are unable to go ahead with their education without financial assistance" are eligible.

Paris—(AP)—Farmers in Edgar county have been advised by Farm Adviser Enos Waters to tackle one of their "meanest jobs" this month. The job is "fighting quackgrass."

Experience has proved that it is almost impossible to eradicate the grass completely. Mr. Waters said, "once it gets a start and extends its root stocks in the fields."

Valuable Hints for Farmers and Their Good Wives

Recent experiments reveal that in using the Brown-Duvel tester, 200 degrees centigrade is the correct temperature to which shelled peanuts and rough and brown rice should be treated to determine their moisture content.

Experiments show that Diplodia seedling blight of sweet corn can be largely prevented by dust or liquid treatment of the seed. Dust treatments are more consistent in their beneficial effects, are more easily applied and involve less risk of injury to the seed than liquid treatments.

Currants and gooseberries, wild and tame, act as host to white pine blister rust. This fungous disease can be checked and the damage to white pines eliminated if all currant and gooseberry bushes in the vicinity of white pine or sugar pine trees are eradicated.

It is a serious mistake to use any unsound immature or poorly ripened fruit in the manufacture of cider or apple juice. The apples should be at a stage between "market ripe" and "dessert ripe." In case the orchard is picked clean for the market, the sound culls from the grading should be stored for ripening or sweating. With rare exceptions the flavor of cider can be improved by judicious blending of the juice from several varieties of apples.

When outcrops are troublesome in the garden in early spring there is likely to be a renewal of activity by the next generation later in the summer. A poisoned bait is an effective control when scattered about the infested area. It may be made by mixing an ounce of Paris green or white arsenic with one and one-quarter pounds of dry bran. To this is added a liquid composed of four fluid ounces of molasses or sirup and a half pint of water.

The Farm Week in Washington

(BY FRANK I. WELLER
(Associated Press Farm Editor)

Washington, (AP)—For the first time in its history the Florida citrus industry is to attempt cooperative marketing on a statewide scale. Secretary of Agriculture Jardine has approved a final draft of plans for the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House Association, which have been under consideration for months, and Allen A. Walker of Winter Haven, Fla., has expressed the belief that the new organization of which he is president will handle 90 per cent. of the fruit shipped out of Florida.

While the association is described as informative rather than regulatory, it is organized under provisions of the Capper-Volstead act governing cooperative marketing agencies, and actions of its operating board will be subject to the veto of its board of directors.

As outlined, the association, will serve as a "clearing house" of market information. It will not recommend shipment to any particular market, but by supplying data on demand, and shipping enroute, will seek to enable shippers to select the market that offers the best opportunity. Such information, it is said, will prevent market congestion at once point and underpricing at another. It will make for orderly and uniform distribution and the stabilization of price. Producers will have a steady outlet with less likelihood of an unmovable surplus.

Economists say the motive of the association is far-sighted and the time propitious. Because of hurricanes and freezes, the Florida crop has been short for two years, but F. G. Robb, chief marketing specialist of the federal division of fruits and vegetables says growers and shippers contemplate heavier production in the future and expect, through the association, to handle market exigencies.

In the past, Robb explains, there has been no effort at cooperative marketing except that undertaken by the Citrus Growers' Exchange, which handled scarcely more than 35 per cent of the crop. There were at least 30 large-scale shippers and perhaps 70 others of considerable importance, all working independently of each other. In addition, a few of the large grove owners practiced private shipping.

It is apparent, Robb declares, that economic confusion will result if in years of high production 50 or 100 shippers utilize the same market with no knowledge of each others' shipments. The association plans for them to exchange information, that no market may be overloaded, stocks pile up for want of outlets, and prices tumble, while markets that might be served to the advantage of all are neglected.

LAKE CITY AND WILMINGTON IN LEAD OF DAIRY

Report of State Assn. for Month of June is Made Public

Urbana, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Cows owned by J. M. Hazzard, Wilmington and W. F. Farrell, Lake City, led the 1033 Illinois dairy herds tested for milk and butterfat production in the forty-two dairy improvement associations last month.

Honor list of high producing herds was announced today by C. S. Rhode, dairy extension specialist of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, who is in charge of the contest.

Hazzard's twenty pure bred and grade Holstein stopped the ten highest producing herds of more than ten cows each, with an average production of 1617 pounds of milk and 52.3 pounds of butterfat. Farrell's herd was best among those of less than ten cows, with an average production for each of his five pure bred and grade Jerseys of 1025 pounds of milk and 52.4 pounds of butterfat.

Twenty of the associations, almost half, succeeded in beating the state average for the month when the cows averaged more than 715 pounds of milk and 27.61 pounds of butterfat. The Moultrie county association headed the list with an average of 795 pounds of milk and 39.2 pounds of butterfat. Trailing the Moultrie county association in the first ten places were Lake, McLean, Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Iroquois, Whiteside, Henry, DuPage and Crawford counties.

Owners of the state's ten highest producing herds of more than ten cows were J. M. Hazzard, Wilmington; Roy Folgate, Dakota; Keenan Brothers, Leland; Irwin Henderson, Robinson; Martin Nelson, Capron; Howard Phelps, Plainfield; Wilbur Soyner, Gurnee; C. Shaefer & Sons, Normal; H. B. Smith, Bardolph, and John Snyder, Charleston.

Owners of the state's ten highest producing herds of less than ten cows were W. F. Farrell, Lake City; Morse Farm, Libertyville; A. A. Hollenbeck, Sullivan; Clyde Patterson, Sullivan; Melvin Teal, Ottawa; A. W. Leifheit, Yorkville; Charles Rains, Hutsonville; A. F. Diekmann, Lebanon; Roy B. Martin, Sullivan; and V. I. Winnings, Lake City.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago—(AP)—Cattle prices are up and prices on good grades of fed steers are likely to remain at the present level or go higher, the weekly agricultural review by Prairie Farmer said today.

Grassers are selling at a sharp discount over grain fed steers but the movement of grassers has not been heavy indicating that it will get into full swing later in the season as the range countries are well supplied with grass. Even when the range movement gets into full swing it is not likely that grassers will get much lower, and the cost of feed lots this fall will be higher than in any year since 1919.

Despite a recent setback of thirty-five cents, hog prices rallied and bid fair to remain strong to higher in the next month or two. Demand for hogs continues broad as arrivals on eastern markets have been rather light so that shipping orders have been liberal.

Lambs broke a dollar with only moderate receipts, but arrivals are expected to be larger from this time on, and lower prices are likely to follow. At present values are $1 to $5.50 higher than a year ago. Wool trade continues slow.

Wheat harvest has progressed rapidly in the southwest and receipts at primary markets have become heavy. The visible supply has begun to increase after shrinking every week since December. Crop prospects have looked up considerably since the June 1 estimate.

Corn prices are fluctuating over a narrow range but demand is well maintained and the visible supply continues to shrink. Country offerings have increased, indicating that some holders are willing to take advantage of present prices. Movement of the new oats crop has not yet started and market stocks are small at this season since 1902. A declining market is probable as supplies increase. The crop is estimated at near the normal average.

The tame hay crop is estimated at 84,400,000 tons, or the smallest since 1921. Recent rains benefited late hay crops, but delayed harvesting. Much hay now arriving at markets is out of condition and sells at a sharp discount. Prices for extra leafy alfalfa are generally steady.

Egg values remain firm and premiums for fancy stock are advancing as heat imperfections reduce the average quality of many of the eggs received.

Butter has been marked up higher due to moderate receipts and a large shortage in storage stocks. Buyers are slow to take on cheese at present prices and the market is easy with supply limited.

Peaches at Cost for Farmers of Illinois

Centerville, Ill., (AP)—Peaches at wholesale prices are offered Illinois farmers by the Illinois Fruit Growers' exchange, A. B. Leeper, manager of the exchange at Centerville, announced.

The peaches are strictly "No. 1," mostly yellow free-stone Elbertas, with a few fine white fruit. The fruit is packed under state and federal standards, and each peach has a diameter of two inches or more.

"Peaches, one of the most perishable crops," said Mr. Leeper, "must be handled quickly. For this reason we are asking cooperation of all farm bureaus and their members toward assisting the peach growers of Illinois in marketing what appears to be one of their largest crops, and at the same time aid the members of farm bureaus in obtaining strictly No. 1 peaches at the wholesale dealers' price."

Shipments will begin August 1, and probably continue all the month.

Peanuts, Soybeans Tabooed for Hogs

Urbana, Ill., (AP)—Peanuts and soybeans are taboo as food for hogs, the producer wishes to please the present taste in pork products.

Like styles in women's clothing, tastes of the modern housewife are undergoing a decided change in the matter of pork she serves. In the opinion of Sleeter Bull, associate professor of meats at the University of Illinois. To the farmer who would meet the latest style, his advice is lean pork and small cuts, hard hogs and little fat.

The important thing for the producer to remember, said Prof. Bull, is that he must supply what the farmer wants; and at present, he must put no more fat on his hogs than is necessary to get a firm juicy piece of pork. This desirable condition can be attained by cautious feeding and the avoidance of "softening" foods such as soybeans and peanuts.

American Shot in Chinese Gun Fight

Chefoo, Shantung, China, July 23—(AP)—An American sailor was shot today in fighting between Chinese factions.

The fighting began at midnight between nationalists and a detachment of 3000 soldiers which formerly served under Chang Tsung-Chang, military Governor of Shantung, and which had been incorporated into the Nationalist army.

Indiscriminate shooting took place in the streets of the city from then until 4 o'clock in the morning. The foreign consulates were isolated and their telephone service was being established between war vessels in the harbor and the consulates.

While communications were being established between war vessels, a member of the American naval shore patrol was shot in the hand.

Leroy Webber, American Consul, called on the Chinese authorities this morning and demanded that an investigation be made to fix the responsibility for the wounding of the American. The British and Japanese Consuls appealed for naval aid.

Later this morning the fighting ceased. The town was placarded with posters saying the former Nationalists had overpowered and disarmed the Nationalists.

Chang Tsung-Chang is believed to be enroute to Chefoo from Chinwangto aboard a Chinese gunboat which still flies the five barred flag of North China.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

New York, July 24—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: wheat increased 3,376,000; corn decreased 1,456,000; oats decreased 469,000; rye decreased 151,000; barley increased 174,000.

SPEEDY on concrete POWERFUL in Mud and Gumbo

You Need This New "SIX-SPEED Special" Truck

If your hauling calls for speed—if your hauling calls for reserve pulling power—the new Six-Speed Special just announced by International Harvester will surely interest you.

The Six-Speed Special is a fine-looking 1-ton truck with a two-speed axle that gives you six speeds forward and two reverse—35 easy, smooth miles per hour in "high-high" and 3 1/2 fighting miles per hour for tough, hard going. It is the truck that gets you there and back in the fastest time whether the going is good or bad, and in all weather. The Six-Speed Special is reasonable in price, economical to operate, trim and flexible, a pleasure to steer and to drive. It has a long, sturdy frame, a good-looking, comfortable, enclosed cab, heavy-duty springs, and an economical, powerful, long-lived, 4-cylinder engine. Bodies are available for every kind of load—commercial or farm—for every phase of rural hauling.

You need this new Six-Speed Special because you want time-saving speed on the high road and plenty of reserve power in the hard going. Come in and inspect this latest International and see for yourself that here at last is a truck that will meet all your requirements.

THE NEW COMBINATION BODY. The new combination body of the Six-Speed is sure to please you. In a few minutes you can change the truck from a sound, tight, 60-bushel grain tank to a serviceable, money-saving stock rack. Commercial bodies also available.

The new International Six-Speed Special truck is the truck to take your full loads—light or heavy—into town or out, on all roads and in all weather.

We have the new Six-Speed Special on display—come in and see it!

DEMONSTRATION ON REQUEST.

We want you to really know what a splendid truck the new Six-Speed is and we want to acquaint you with its fine performance by letting you drive it yourself. Write, phone, or call for a demonstration. We will put the Six-Speed Special through its paces for you any time you say—without obligation.

LOVE FOR TWO

RUTH DEWEY GROVES © 1928 By NEA Service Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

BERTIE LOU WARD married ROD BRYER, who had previously been engaged to LILA MARNH. The only shadow on the bride's happiness is Lila's persistence in nursing her and telling friends that she was Rod's first love.

A position in New York is offered Rod by TOM FRASER and he accepts. Anxious to make a good impression, they live beyond their income and Bertie Lou finds it hard to resist when HOLLY FRASER urges her to buy more clothes than she can afford. She clothes them by her first quarrel over money, and to make matters worse Lila arrives to visit Holly and make life miserable for Bertie Lou. But they introduce her to a rich Mr. LOREE and she surprises them by accepting him.

Lila asks Bertie Lou to forgive the past and be friends with such sincerity that the latter is deceived. Trying to keep up with their wealthy friends plunges Rod deeper in debt and he becomes depressed. Lila sees her chance to persuade him to accept a higher salary from Loree.

Promising security and advancement, she induces Bertie Lou to indulge in an orgy of spending and to furnish more luxurious quarters. During Loree's absence Lila asks Rod to put her jewels in the office vault. Later she requests him to return them to her and when they open the case, the jewels are gone. Rod wants to notify the police but she will not let him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIV

LILA saw her advantage and pressed it. Rod was weighing the cost of giving publicity to the theft, of seeking the aid of the police and the insurance company.

The case was absolutely black against him. No one, only himself, he admitted, had touched the jewels after Lila had given them to him for safekeeping. And the lock of the case had been difficult to open when he returned it to her . . . looked as if it had been tampered with.

Rod's brain was working swiftly now that he clearly saw a string of consequences in his outlook. It occurred to him that the police might find sufficient evidence to hold him for trial.

ROCKFORD FLIER HOPES TO TAKE OFF THIS WEEK

Lack of Weather Data Holds Up Start of
Sweden Flight

BULLETIN
Rockford, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Five o'clock tomorrow morning has been definitely set as the hour for Bert Hassell's take-off on his proposed one-stop flight to Stockholm, Sweden, by way of Greenland, the flier announced today.
As matters now stand, Hassell said, nothing will interfere with his plans to hop-off at 5 a. m. Wednesday. Weather conditions on his proposed route appear satisfactory, he said, and only unforeseen can cause any further delay.
Another point in the flight's favor, Hassell pointed out today, was the availability of an additional landing field and supply base in Iceland, news of which was sent him in a cablegram from Alexander Johansson of Kildadarnes, Iceland, informing him that gasoline and oil would be available there if Hassell found it necessary for a landing.
Hassell hopes to fly direct to Greenland, re-fuel and proceed to Stockholm, making the trans-Atlantic trip with only the one stop.

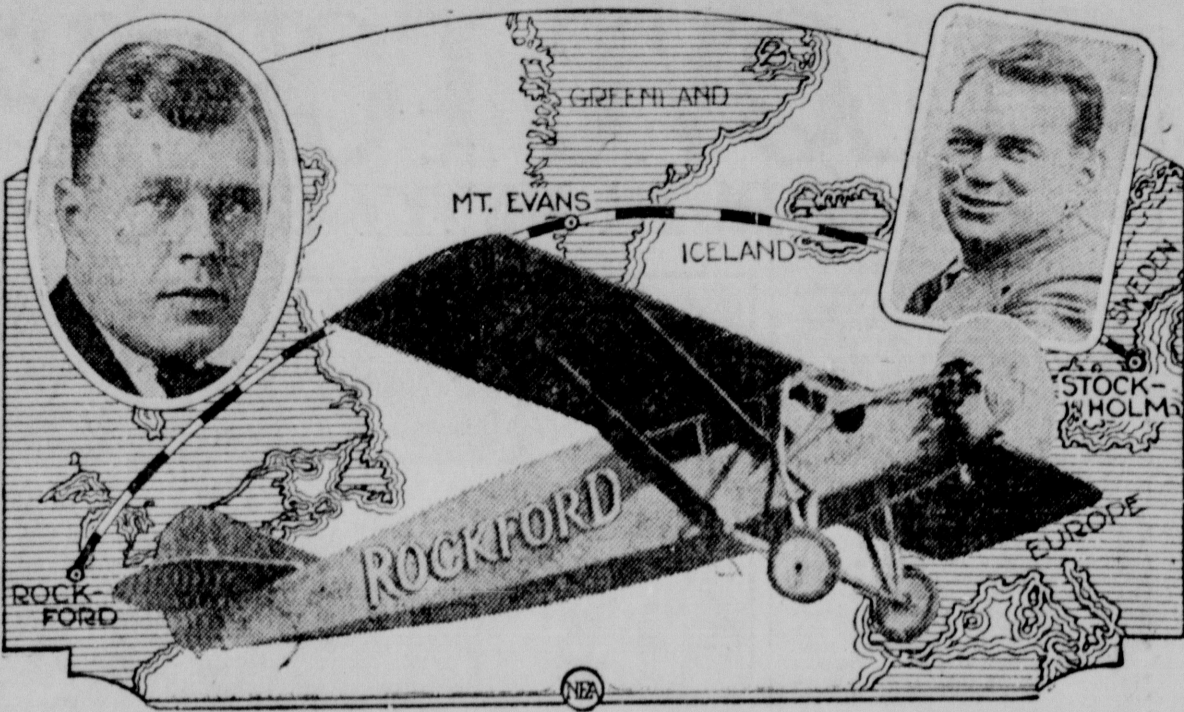

Rockford, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Rockford, Ill., July 23—(AP)—Backers of Bert Hassell's proposed flight from Rockford to Stockholm, Sweden, in the airplane "Greater Rockford" today announced definitely that the flight would not be abandoned regardless of any delays.
The chief, and virtually only obstacle in the path of the flight now is the lack of reports on weather at Greenland, where Hassell and his co-pilot-navigator, Parker Cramer, will make their only scheduled stop to re-fuel. Officials of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the flight, said trouble had been encountered in receiving radio reports on the weather from Prof. W. H. Hobbs, who is in Greenland with the University of Michigan Arctic expedition and acting as the flight weather bureau at its Greenland base near Mt. Evans.

Plane is Equipped
The plane is equipped and ready to take off as soon as it is fueled, it was reported. While the fliers are anxious to get away, it was said there is little likelihood a take-off will be made before Wednesday, due to the difficulties met in getting the weather forecasts.

The pilot and co-pilot made a trial flight late yesterday and reported the compass and other instruments in perfect order.
Naval authorities have computed a flying distance of 2,269 miles from Rockford to Greenland. The distance from Greenland to Stockholm is 1,300 miles.
Dr. F. G. Kimball, eminent meteorologist, warned Cramer when he was in Washington against the seasonal storms around Greenland. He advised them to turn around and head back for the North American mainland if they met head winds of increasing intensity.

Trying a New Aerial Road to Europe

A new aerial route to Europe will be tried soon by Bert R. J. Hassell, Rockford aviator. Hassell (shown upper left), flying the monoplane Rockford pictured here, will be accompanied by Parker D. Cramer (at right). The projected route is shown on the map. The first leg of the flight will be over the great circle route to Mt. Evans, in Greenland; the next jump will be to Stockholm, Sweden, with a possible stop in Iceland if it is found a full fuel load cannot be taken over the Greenland mountains. The longest water jump in this route is only about 500 miles, and Hassell for this reason believes the route safer than any other across the Atlantic. The total distance to be spanned is approximately 4,200 miles.

America May Be Destination of Mystery Flight

"What a car," you'll say when you've driven this New Oldsmobile . . . and "What a price," when you've learned how little it costs. A glance will tell you that it is every inch the fine car in smartness and appearance. And a drive will convince you that no fine car outshines it in performance.

Agreat new 55-H.P. engine provides brilliant high-compression performance—but does not require the use of special fuel. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, deeply-cushioned form-fitting seats, and a silenced chassis and interior add the comfort, restfulness and quiet which distinguish fine-car operation.

Come take a drive in this New Oldsmobile. Then you'll know why more and more thousands of motor car buyers are making it their choice.
